July 22, 1868.

My dear Mr. Garrison:

Will you give us the pleasure of your company at dinner on Sat. next - (the 25th inst) - Miss Estlin will be staying with us then, & we hope to collect a few friends to meet her; whose assemblage would be incomplete without you.

We dine at 2^o.th P.M.

& you know the 11.30
train which starts well, & there is a choice of afternoon trains returning to town. I have written to Mr. May. I hope that he will join us also.

All kinds with me in love to your house hold & with depending on seeing you here on Saturday I am Dear Mr. Garrison

ever very truly yours
